UNITED STATES RICE EXPORTS OVER THE PAST 10 YEARS

Exports of U.S. rice increased rapidly during the 1970's, peaked in 1981 at about 3 million tons, and declined steadily to less than 2 million tons by 1985. As the export quantities varied over the period, so did the major export destinations. The three major export markets for U.S. rice in 1976, Indonesia, Iran, and the Republic of Korea, imported almost no U.S. rice by 1985. Nigeria, which was a major market during most of the 10-year period, (1976-85) imported very little U.S. rice by the end of the period. The largest importer of U.S. rice in 1985 was Iraq, followed by Saudi Arabia, Senegal, and the Philippines.

Regional export distribution also changed markedly over the 10-year period. Asian countries accounted for over 37 percent of U.S. exports in 1976, but only 11 percent by 1985. African destinations accounted for less than 12 percent of exports in 1976, but over 28 percent by 1985. The share of exports to the Middle East also increased, from 23 percent in 1976 to 33 percent in 1985. The share of exports to Western Europe changed only slightly, from 18 percent in 1976 to 15 percent in 1985.

The composition of U.S. rice exports also has changed somewhat during the 10-year period. Brown rice comprised almost 27 percent of exports in 1976, grew to over 33 percent in 1981, then dropped to only 15 percent in 1985 as exports to Asian destinations declined. Exports of parboiled rice increased both in quantity and as a percentage. It accounted for only 21 percent of rice exports in 1976, peaked at 41 percent in 1982, and fell back to 27 percent in 1985. The percentage of white rice exports decreased slightly from 52 percent in 1976 to 46 percent in 1985.

Rice exports under the P.L.-480 program (titles I, II, and III) decreased from 916,000 tons in 1976 (45 percent of U.S. rice exports) to 537,000 tons in 1985 (28 percent).

NOTES AND EXPLANATIONS OF THE DATA BASE

1. All tables, exclusive of those on PL-480 shipments are based on U.S. Census statistics. Rice exports are converted to a milled rice equivalent. Brown rice is converted by multiplying by .88 and rough rice by using .72.

2. The export data is not adjusted for transshipments.

3. A dash denotes a nil level of exports, while a "0" indicates that less than 500 kg were exported.

4. Brown parboiled rice is alternately reported as brown rice or parboiled rice.

5. "Other rice" is an aggregation of "rice for relief" plus "rice not for relief".

6. The U.S. Rice marketing year begins August 1 and ends July 31. In the marketing year tables, the column labeled 1976 for example, denotes a year beginning August 1, 1976 and ending July 31, 1977.

7. The U.S. Rice fiscal year begins October 1 and ends September 30. In the fiscal year tables, the column labeled 1976 for example, denotes a year beginning October 1, 1976 and ends September 30, 1977.
